International Women's Day

In remembering the International Women's Day, female members of our organization joined women of Oslo in celebrating this day. They “showed the flag” quite literally, carrying our flag and even adorning themselves with it at the same time as they distributed leaflets in which they described the situation of Ethiopian women and how they and their children have suffered at the hands of the present brutal regime and its equally brutal predecessor. They also demanded empowerment of Ethiopian women in education, skills training and professional life, and showed their solidarity with the cause of women around the world.

Finally, they called on the world to remember and honor their sisters for the sacrifices they have made in our organization's endless struggle against suppression. You can see the activity of our sisters in the pictures below.

EPRP Norway Section, which is supporting and promoting the cause of Ethiopian women, wishes to congratulate our sisters in Norway in particular and in the world at large in general, for their energy and their commitment to the struggle for justice, democracy and unity.

Women's Struggle for Justice, Democracy and Unity Shall Prevail!!
