

BOYCOTT “ETHIOPIAN REVIEW”

By: Wotir Kassa

Our beloved country Ethiopia is seething with unprecedented cyber assaults and defamations that are assiduously waged by so-called “Ethiopian Review” website, its coteries and mercenary sandbaggers.

Such unwarranted and unprovoked onslaught against Ethiopia and its national interests is the most horrendous act of unpardonable hostility which under any circumstance or pretext should not be tolerated or dismissed.

Hail! to Mulumebet Asfaw and Ephrem Madebo for their dauntlessness in unmasking the website’s sinister operations. We should all also wake up to this reality of anti-Ethiopian cyber enmity and counter it with passionate patriotism and unflinching nationalism. The best course of action and the most rational stance against this anti-Ethiopian assault is to boycott the website.

The name “Ethiopian Review” should not mislead and infatuate us. The phrase is a deliberately coined misnomer, a clandestine camouflage and a false façade.

According to reliable sources, it is a code name for a spying platform against Ethiopia, its national interests, peoples and sovereign existence as a viable political state. As such, it is engaged in anti-Ethiopian cyber espionage, reconnaissance, watching, spying, blackmailing, mind control, false accusation, misinformation, disinformation, character assassination, denigration, and defamation and Gestapo type of interference, sabotage, disruption, unparagoned affront and profanity.

It is also a covert high command for anti-Ethiopian sinister operations in favor of its renegade enemies and diehard rivals. The political objectives of Shabia, the jihadist irredentism of Somalis, the secessionist agendas of “OLF” and “ONLF” and the anti-opposition conspiracies of Woyane are all guiding platforms of the website. This infamous and ill-famed website ostentatiously and chauvinistically promotes these anti-Ethiopian interests of our enemies and intern, unequivocally enjoys their clandestine patronage and fervent backing.

The claim of being a Woyane target is an allegation employed to design a credible cover among cyber audiences. The naked truth is that the website is still, among other things, extending intelligence and mercenary support to Woyane by defaming reputed Ethiopians, dividing the opposition, subverting their struggles and crushing their hopes and that of Diaspora and the Ethiopian people.

Nothing is supremely important, extremely vital, highly esteemed and eminent than our country Ethiopia, its people and national interests. Viciously and maliciously attacking our country, smear campaigning against its people, working for and with our enemies and clandestinely sabotaging and jeopardizing our national interests are not only blasphemous and highly profane but also unwarranted treacherous act of hostility and blatant aggression.

The crime against Ethiopia can not and will not be tolerated. Therefore, we cannot and must not allow ourselves to be infatuated with this so-called “Ethiopian Review” and live with its devastating consequences. We must all boycott it NOW.
