MY EDUCATION IN GOOD GOVERNMENT!

I live right across from the wading pool in Withrow Park and watching the little kids have fun is definitely a lesson in how good government works. I'll explain what I saw:

You see a rock you kick it out of the way. You see something you like you take it and try it on as a hat. You put one foot in the water scream then come running back to mom. Take a pail, fill it, empty it and then take someone else's pail which is already filled and dump that. Splash water in someone's face and see if it makes him or her cry...if it does you win. There are as many boys as girls in the pool but here it doesn't matter or should it.

There's always one little boy screaming to be leader but mostly he's ignored. The mom's sitting next to the pool are looking at their genetic off-spring as if they invented something nobody else has, which is true to a certain extent.

Then all of a sudden every kid in the pool starts running in one direction, screaming at the top of their lungs and this makes everyone else by the pool take notice. The kid who earlier was screaming to be leader takes a quick right just to see who follows, on this day no one.

Once the chaos set-les down the boy who wants to be leader goes and finds the people who still like him. Some go off and look for a pail; others splash around in the water and pee while the rest go off to kick some rocks.

This goes on till their mums pick them up and head home. Ten minutes later another group comes in and basically does the same thing only differently maybe more noisily and possibly not for as long.

You see if government worked any differently we would have one guy or gang of ten thinking and saying stuff that we didn't like. They would yell and scream and not in a fun way, but in a dreadful way.

The way they always have and why we've fought so many wars so that good government can function like that wading pool.

OPEN LETTER TO US AMBASSADOR DONALD BOOTH

February 3/2010

Mr. Ambassador,

SOCEPP was pleased to hear your declaration, at the Senate Hearing to approve your nomination as US ambassador to Ethiopia, that you would exert pressure on the Meles Zenawi regime to respect the human rights of the Ethiopian people. Not that we have not heard such promises from previous US ambassadors who later turned to be apologists for the repressive regime in Addis Abeba with whom, as you yourself stated, the US has complex interests.

SOCEPP begs to differ strongly with your assertion that the "people in prisons after the aftermath of the 2005 election were all released". This simply is NOT true. Some 120 or so leaders and high level officials have indeed been released ( Judge Birukan Midiksa is back in Kaliti, a notorious prison you should visit in Addis Abeba) but of the 50,000 other unnamed prisoners rounded up at that time there are still more than 30,000 prisoners suffering in Zwai, Bir Sheleko, Dedesa, Shoa Robit and other such prisons. We suggest you ask the authorities to visit these prisons as well as the ones in Jijiga, Bahr Dar, Gondar, Arba Minch and the secret prisons in Addis Abeba itself (we can supply you the locations if you so desire). SOCEPP would also like to remind you that dozens of political prisoners (such as Tsegaye Gebre Medhin, Hagos Bezabih, Wondusirak Desta, journalist Berhanu Ijigu, trade unionist Abebe Ainekulu, Yishak Debretsion, Ms Aberash Berta, Tesfaye Kebede, Lemma Makonen and many others) have been disappeared by the regime. Would you be the first US ambassador to show some concern on the fate of the disappeared? We hope so.

ETHIOPIA'S JAILED VICTIM OF WESTERN REALPOLITIK

By Xan Rice | February 2, 2010

Almaz Gebregziabher and her granddaughter, Halley, hold a photograph of Halley's mother, Birtukan Mideksa, who has been likened to Burma's Aung San Suu Kyi in her fight for democracy (Xan Rice)

Editor's note - It is a long-known fact that Meles Zenawi has deployed a group of paid agents whose duty is to hunt for newly-published articles on the Internet, and strike first if the articles are critical of the regime. The purpose is to throw foreigners into confusion, and give the impression that protest against the mercenary regime is the work of fringe elements in the Diaspora.

At noon every Sunday an old Toyota sedan donated by supporters of Ethiopia's most famous prisoner pulls up near a jail on the outskirts of the capital.

A 74-year-old woman in a white shawl and her four-year-old granddaughter the only outsiders the prisoner is allowed to see step out for a 30-minute visit.

Most inmates at Kaliti prison want their relatives to buy them food. But Birtukan Mideksa, the 35-year-old leader of the country's main opposition party, always asks her mother and daughter to bring books: an anthology titled The Power of Non-Violence, Bertrand Russell's Best, and the memoirs of Gandhi, Barack Obama and Aung San Suu Kyi, the Burmese political prisoner to whom she has been compared.

Mideksa, a single mother and former judge, was among dozens of opposition leaders, journalists and civil society workers arrested following anti-government demonstrations after the disputed 2005 elections.

Charged with treason for allegedly planning to overthrow the government accusations rejected by independent groups such as Amnesty International the political leaders were sentenced to life imprisonment. After spending nearly two years in jail they were pardoned, but Mideksa was rearrested in December 2008 for challenging the official version of circumstances that led to her release. Her pardon was revoked, her life sentence reinstated.

"My child did not do anything wrong she had no weapon, she committed no crime," said Almaz Gebregziabher, Mideksa's mother, in her house on a hillside in Addis Ababa after visiting her daughter one recent Sunday. "I want the world to know that this is unjust."

Many Ethiopians agree. Mideksa's treatment has cast a shadow over elections due in May. Opposition parties and international human rights groups said the case is proof of the authoritarian government's stalled progress towards democracy. It is also evidence, they said, of the double standards of Western donors when dealing with Meles Zenawi, the prime minister, a major aid recipient and ally in the "war against terror". Although Zenawi makes no attempt to hide his disdain for Mideksa talk of her release is a "dead issue", he said in December he denies the case is political.

But a look at her history with his regime shows why few people outside his party believe him.

Mideksa excelled at university and was appointed a federal judge in Addis Ababa. In 2002 she was assigned a case involving Siye Abraha, a former defence minister who had fallen out with Zenawi and was accused of corruption. Mideksa released him on bail a rare show of judicial independence in Ethiopia but when Abraha left court he was immediately rearrested and jailed.

Mideksa's relatives said she joined opposition forces before the 2005 elections and was arrested and released in 2007. Upon her release she set about bringing together the various opposition groups from 2005 and helped found the Unity for Democracy and Justice, of which she was elected chairperson. Her age and gender made this extraordinary. In November 2008 Mideksa told an audience of Ethiopians in Sweden that her pardon had come as a result of negotiations rather than an official request made through legal channels. Although people who were in jail with her said this reflected the truth, the government said it equated to denying asking for a pardon, and sent her back to jail.

And there is no sympathy from the government. "She was advised to obey the rule of law," said Teferi Melese, head of public diplomacy at the foreign affairs ministry in Addis Ababa. "But she broke the conditions of her pardon, thinking her friends in the European Union could get her released."

That foreign embassies, including Britain's, which have been refused permission to visit Mideksa, have barely made a public complaint about the case appears to back opposition complaints that when it comes to Ethiopia, donors favour stability over democratic reforms or human rights.

"The government says the more we make noise the more difficult it will be to get her [Mideksa] out," said one Western diplomat, speaking on condition of anonymity. "Are we going to risk our entire aid budget for one person? No."

THE LAW COMMISSION OF ONTARIO WANTS TO HEAR ABOUT THE EXPERIENCE OF VULNERABLE WORKERS

I am pleased to have the opportunity to speak to you about the Law Commission of Ontario's project on precarious work and vulnerable workers.

Launched in September 2007, the Law Commission of Ontario is an independent body with a mandate to make recommendations to increase access to justice. We currently have six projects underway. The one I am talking about here is our review of the situation for workers who perform "precarious work", that is, short-term work, with low pay and few benefits. Vulnerable workers include part-time, temporary or migrant workers, for example.

Anyone doing precarious work knows the kinds of effects it can have. For example,

- Although working, sometimes at more than one job, vulnerable workers may live in poverty or close to it.
- They enter old age without a pension or a nest-egg.

- They worry about falling ill because of poor health benefits.
- They do not have time to spend with their families or develop ties with their community.
- They don't have time to take training or develop language skills.

And the problem has become worse. Studies show that precarious work has been increasing, with the decline of manufacturing and the changing nature of the service industry. And instead of this work being a stepping stone to other kinds of employment, workers find themselves doing it for their working lives. It used to be that wages for immigrants used to catch up with the wages of Canadian born workers; now there is still a big gap after ten years.

We can't ignore the "demographic" of precarious work: who are the vulnerable workers whose contribution to our society helps to keep it functioning effectively and who help others do the kind of work they want to do? Women of all communities and men of racialized communities, including recent immigrants, constitute a disproportionate number of persons performing precarious work and therefore also a disproportionate number of people who suffer the consequences.

"Precarious work" takes many forms, such as

- temporary employment or arrangements that last only for a short period or for a limited period,
- part-time work and
- "own-account self employment" (the worker is more like an employee than an "owner", but is treated as an owner).

Many temporary employees receive about half the pay that full-time employees in the same kind of job receive and fewer than 10% receive extended health care and only 2% dental benefits. The number of temporary foreign workers (agricultural workers, live-in caregivers and home-workers) has increased 125% over the last fifteen years. Sometimes employees want to work part-time and hiring part-time workers is a legitimate response to seasonal demands, for example. In other cases, though, an employer will hire two workers part-time instead of one full-time worker to avoid paying the same rate of pay or include the workers in benefit plans. The issue isn't that there is "precarious" work of this kind – some of it is unavoidable –, it is that some people seem to be bearing the brunt of the consequences and that isn't good for them or for society. The LCO wants to consider whether there are ways in which the burden of doing this kind of work can be alleviated.

We will soon post a consultation paper on our website about the vulnerable workers project and will be engaged in a widespread consultation. Please contact us to talk about the project, especially if

- You have experience doing precarious work; or
- If your organization assists vulnerable workers.

The Law Commission of Ontario treats submissions and comments as confidential, unless the individual or group making them wishes to disclose their identity, subject only to the requirements of the law. Please contact us if you have questions about this policy.

MINISTER KENNEY ISSUES STATEMENT ON BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Ottawa, February 1, 2010 — The Honourable Jason Kenney, Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism, issued the following statement for the beginning of Black History Month:

"Today marks the beginning of Black History Month, a time to honour the legacy of black Canadians and celebrate their many achievements and contributions to Canada.

"The theme of Black History Month 2010 is "Proud of our History," which will focus on three elements: the 150th anniversary of the presentation of the Victoria Cross to William Hall; the exceptional contribution of Harriet Tubman during the Underground Railroad Movement; and the historical significance and entrepreneurship of Mifflin Wistar Gibbs, a Person of National Historic Significance.

"Black History Month is a great opportunity for Canadians to learn about the contributions of black communities and the vital role they have played in our history. On behalf of the Government of Canada, I am proud to officially launch Black History Month on Parliament Hill tomorrow.

"As Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism, I encourage all Canadians to participate in Black History Month activities across the country.

For example, later this week a play by noted Canadian actor Anthony Sherwood premieres at the Maritime Museum of the Atlantic honouring the legacy of William Hall, V.C. This is just one of many opportunities to learn about the many ways that black communities have contributed to the strength of our communities and our shared identity."

For more information on Black History Month and the events that will be happening across the country, visit the website www.cic.gc.ca/english/multiculturalism/black/index.asp.

GRETZKY LIGHTS UP VANCOUVER OLYMPICS

GEORGIAN LUGER'S DEATH CASTS SHADOW

Saturday, February 13, 2010

By Dan Robson, CBC Sports

Olympic flame kissed the dark Vancouver sky, a bright symbol of hope on a day of shocking loss.

After months of speculation, it was hockey great Wayne Gretzky who lit the outdoor cauldron and officially launched the Vancouver Olympics on Friday night.

He had met fellow Canadian sports legends Steve Nash, Senator Nancy Greene Raine, Catriona Le May Doan and Rick Hansen to light flames inside BC Place, then bounded out of the stadium after some technical problems. In the rain, he stood on the back of a truck and travelled to the external cauldron with a police escort through cheering crowds.

The permanent cauldron is made of four pillars resembling ice, leaning together like the twigs of a cottage bonfire.

Earlier, cheers rocked the covered stadium as flag-bearer Clara Hughes's bright grin led the Canadian contingent at the opening ceremony.

The Governor General, the prime minister and 60,000 fans who packed the arena all rose to celebrate the host nation. And perhaps, the sombre spirit of the Olympics rose, too.

The colourful ceremony was staged against a backdrop of tragedy. Hours earlier, luger Nodar Kumaritashvili from the Republic of Georgia died in a training accident at Whistler.

Georgian Olympic team marched in to a standing ovation. They were led by downhill skier Iason Abramashvili, who carried a black-trimmed flag.

The ceremony welcoming about 2,500 athletes representing 82 nations — was dedicated to Kumaritashvili.

Jumping through rings

The celebration opened with a snowboarder jumping through Olympic rings at the stadium.

"Welcome to the 2010 Vancouver Winter Games," the snowboarder announced to a cheering crowd.

With dignitaries including Gov. Gen. Michaëlle Jean, Prime Minister Stephen Harper and International Olympic Committee president Jacques Rogge looking on, native dancers in traditional garb sang and danced as the athletes paraded into the arena.

As usual, Greece, led the way with athletes waving their blue and white stripes proudly, honoured as the inaugural Olympic hosts.

Albania, Algeria, Andorra followed — and

A solitary athlete from Colombia carried his nation's flag to its first Winter Olympics. Later, Ethiopia's four athletes waved the red, yellow and green flag ahead of Finland.

Cultural celebration

A breathtaking celebration of Canadian culture followed the athletes' march. The performance traced Canada's history, culture and landscape.

The floor of BC Place was transformed into a virtual sea, with orca whales drifting lazily, their image reflected off the roof.

Nelly Furtado and Bryan Adams shared a duet, and Sarah McLachlan followed, playing the piano and singing Ordinary Miracles.

Ashley MacIsaac led a group of fiddlers, as river dancers twisted and turned around a stage adorned with giant maple leaves.

The Prairies were celebrated through the eyes of a young person. Suspended from above, the youth drifted above an image of wind-blown wheat. It rippled as he dipped down and sailed across it, to strains of Joni Mitchell's Both Sides Now. The image of blue horses galloped across the floor.

Rogge and VANOC chief John Furlong, both wearing black ties of mourning, welcomed the athletes.

Furlong called the competitors "heroes," "giants" and "human champions" — adding a special tribute to Kumaritashvili.

"At these Games you now have the added burden to shine and be united around your fallen colleague, Nodar," he said. "May you carry his Olympic dream on your shoulders, and compete with his spirit in your heart."

After Jean officially proclaimed the Games open and k.d. lang sang Leonard Cohen's Hallelujah, the Olympic flag was carried in by eight other Canadian luminaries:

- astronaut Julie Payette.
- actor Donald Sutherland.
- singer Anne Murray.
- former figure skater Barbara Ann Scott.
- Senator Romeo Dallaire.
- hockey legend Bobby Orr.
- auto racer Jacques Villeneuve.
- Betty Fox, mother of Terry Fox.

Hayley Wickenheiser, captain of the Canadian women's hockey team, swore the Olympic athletes' oath. The indoor ceremony came to a close as Gretzky and his fellow sports stars carried flames to the centre of BC Place.

A few awkward moments passed as a mechanical problem delayed the emergence of a symbolic cauldron from the BC Place floor. The Canadian legends held their torches and looked anxious as they waited for the four pillars to rise.

For a moment, it looked as if the glitch might be an unfortunate end to the Olympic celebration, marred earlier by a slow rendition of the national anthem by Nikki Yanofsky that confused Canadians from coast to coast. Then, like a hydraulic-driven phoenix, the contraption rose.

Games organizers and people across the country breathed sighs of relief and Gretzky rode off into the rainy Vancouver night to finish the ceremony.

በወያኔ ላይ ማዕቀባች አይላላ

(ከፍተ ዲሞክራሲ ራዲዮ የተወሰደ)

ሕዝባዊ ትግል ወይም አመፅ መሳሪያችን ነው እሳካልን ድረስ ትግሉ ፈርጆ ብዙና በልዩ ልዩ መንገድ መካሄድ እንዳለበትም መዘንጋት የለብንም። ብረት አንስቶ ጠላትን መፋለም አንድ በአሁኑ ጊዜ አስፈላጊ የሆነ የትግል ስልት ነው። ይህ ትግል አያስፈልግም ብለው በስመ ሰላም

አሉታዊ ሰበካን የሚደረግሩት ሁሉ ወደዱም ጠሉም የሀገራችንን ሥርዓት የሚፈልጉ አይደሉም። ስለ ፍቅር መዘዘን የደረቀውን የወያኔ ልብና ህሊና ነፍስ አይዘራበትም። ስለዚህም የወያኔ

አገዛዝን የአፈና ሀይል ለማንበርክክ ብረት አንስቶ መታገል የግድ ሆኖ ይገኛል።

ሁለገብ ትግልን ሊያንኳስሱ የሚሞክሩ መሰሪ ሀይሎችም ጥቂቶች አይደሉም። ይህን ጠንቅቀን አውቀን እነዚህን አወቁትም አላወቁትም የወያኔ ደጋፊ የሆኑ ክፍሎች መቋቋም መቻል ይጠበቅብናል። በአሁኑ ጊዜ ወያኔ ሰላማዊ ነው ወይም በሰላማዊ መንገድ ሥልጣን ለሕዝብ ያስረክባል ብለው የሚያስቡ ካሉ ከእንቅልፋቸው ይነቁ ዘንድ መጣራት ያስፈልጋል።

በሚመጣው የወያኔ ምርጫ ይህ አረመኔ ቡድን ይሸነፋል፤ ተሸንፎም ሥልጣን አልለቅ ካለ ሕዝብ በአመፅ ይነሳል

ብለው የሚመኙ ወይም የሚሰብኩ ደግሞ ማያ ዓይናቸውን፣ ማሰቢያ አንገላቸውን የት

እንደጣሉ ሊጠየቁ ይገባል። ባለው ሁኔታ ወያኔን በምርጫ ማሸነፍ ሱሚ ነው፤ ቅዠት፣ ተወን ፓርላማ ለመግባት እንሟሟትበት ብሎ አቅጮን መናገር ያስመስግናል፤ በድርጊቱ ብዙሀን ባይስማሙም። ወደ ተነሳንበት ርዕስ ስንመለስ የሕዝብ አንዱ የትግል መሳሪያ አድማ ሲሆን ሌላው

ደግሞ ማዕቀብ ነው። በወያኔ ላይ ፍጹም የሆነ ጥቅብ ማዕቀብ ማድረግ ወጤት አለው። ለምሳሌ የፖለቲካ እስረኞች ካልተፈቱ በምርጫ አንሳተፍም ብሎ መቆም ይቻል/ይገባ ነበር። የምርጫው ህግና ቦድድ ካልተቀየሩ በምርጫው አንሳተፍም ብሎ መወሰንም ይቻል/ይገባ ነበር። ግን የዚህ

ዓይነት ቆራጥ አቅዋም የመውሰድ ወይ

ያላቸው ድርጅቶች ባለመኖራቸው ወያኔ በወሰነው መሰረት በምርጫ ለመሳተፍና የወያኔንም አልባሌ ስነድ ለመፈረም እሸቅድምድም ሊታይ በቅቷል።

በሕዝብ በኩል ግን ይህን የወያኔን ምርጫ እጅ እጅ ያለ ባልትና ውድቅ ብሎ በዚህ አለመሳተፍ አንድ አስፈላጊ አቅዋም ና ትግል ነው። ባለፈው ማሟያ ምርጫ እንደተደረገውም የምርጫው

ወረቀት ላይ ፀረ ወያኔ መፈክርን ፅፎ ከሳጥኑ መክተትም ይቻላል።

ማዕቀብ ስንልም የኢኮኖሚ ማዕቀብንም ይመለከታል። ከዚህ በፊት በወያኔ የንግድ ተቋሞችና

ወያኔ ደጋፊዎች የ ንግድ ተቋሞች ላይ ተጀምሮ የነበረው ማዕቀብ ሳይላላ መቀጠል አለበት።

ከወያኔ ጋር ተቃቅፈው የሚሰሩ ኩባንያዎችንም በዚህ መንገድ የማዕቀብ ሰለባ ማድረግ አለብን። ሕዝብ በዚህ ከተስማማና በጋራ ካደመ፣ የነሱን ምርት አንገዛም፣ አንበሳም፣ አንጠጣም ብሎ

ማዕቀብ ካደረገ ለወያኔም ጉዳቱ ቀላል አይደለም። በወያኔ አውቶሱሶችና ወይይቶች አለመሳፈር፣ በወያኔዎች ቡና ቤት አለመገኘት፣ የወያኔንና ደጋፊዎቹን አምቦ ወህ፣ ቢራ ወዘተ አለመጠጣት

ያስፈልጋል። ወያኔና ቅጥረኞቹ ከሕዝብ የተደበቁ አይደሉም። የትኛው ባዕድም ከወያኔ ጋር

ገጥሞ ሕዝብን እንደሚበዘብዝ የምናውቀው ነው። በመሆኑም ማዕቀቡ በሁሉም ላይ ሊሆን

ይገባዋል። በዚህ መስክ በባዕድ ሀገር ያሉ ኢትዮጵያውያን ማዕቀቡን የተወትና የዘነጉት መምሰሉ አልቀረም። በየ ምግብ ቤቱ የወያኔ ቢራ፣ አምቦ ወህ እየተሸጠ መሆኑ ይታወቃል። ወያኔ የሚሸጠውም ጤፍና እንጀራ ላይ ሙሉ ማዕቀብ ገና አልተደረገም። ይህ መታረም ያለበት ድክመት

ነው።

ሌላው ማዕቀብ ህብረተሰባዊ ነው። ይህንን በመጥፎ መልኩ እነ ወያኔ ከዚህ በፊት ተጠቅመውበታል። ትግራይ ያላገባውን ሲያፋቱና ገለል ሲያደርጉ፣ ትግራይ ያልሆነ ጓደኛ ያልሆነውን ከህብረተሰቡ ሲያርቁ ቆይተዋል። የሕዝብ ማህበረሰባዊ ማዕቀብ ግን እንደ ወያኔ ዘርፍ ጎሳን መሰረት

ያደረገ አይደለም፤ ሊሆንም

አይገባውም። የሕዝብ ማህበረሰባዊ ማዕቀብ በወያኔና በቅጥረኞቹ

ላይ ያተኮረ መሆን አለበት። የወያኔ ቀንደኞችን፣ ሰላዮችን፣ አፋኞችን፣ ከሕዝብ የተጣሉ ቅጥረኞችን ሁሉ መራቅና ማግለል ያስፈልጋል። ከነፍስ ገዳዮችና ነፍስ ገዳይን ከሚደግፉና ካቀፉ ጋር

ወዳጅነትና ቡና መጣጣት ጭራሽ ሊኖር አይገባም። የወያኔ ቅጥረኞች ወደ ውጭ ሀገር ሲጓዙም

በዚያ ያለው ዜጋ ዓይናችሁን ለአፈር ሊላቸው ይገባል እንጂ በየመጠጥ ቤቱ አብሯቸው ሊገኝ

አይጠበቅም። ይህ ማዕቀብ ብዙ መስዋዕትነትን የሚጠይቅ አይደለም። ግን ፀረ ሕዝቦችና ከህዳዎች ከሕዝብ ጎራ እንዲደርቁ፣ እንዲገለሉና እንዲነጠሉ አድርጎ ይቀጣቸዋልና ፍቱን እርምጃ ነው። አንዳንዶች ይህ እርምጃ ሕዝብን ያራርቃል፤ የጥላቻ ጥሪ ነው ሲሉ ይደመጣሉ። ወያኔን መጥላት፣ ነፍስ ገዳዮችን መጥላት፣ የነፍስ ገዳይ አጎብረንም መጥላት የሚያስመስግን እንጂ የሚያስወቅስ አይደለም። ሕዝብን አያራርቅም ግን ሕዝብንና ጠላቶቹን ያራርቃል፤ ይህ ደግሞ ሀገርን

ለማዳን የሚፈለገው መሆንም ያለበት ነው። ወያኔና ሕዝብ የሚለዩበት መስመር መድበስበስ

የለበትም። ወያኔ ወዳጅ ነው ጠላት አይደለም የሚሉ እበላ ባዮች ይህን ቢቃወሙ የሚጠበቅ

ነውና ለነሱ ጆሮ መስጠት አያስፈልግም።

ማዕቀብ በሕዝብ ህይልና አቅም ሥር ያለ ነው። ማኩረፍ ብቻ ሳይሆን ጠላት ላይ ቁጣ ነው። ዝምብሎ መበሳጨት ሳይሆን ተጨባጭ እርምጃን ወስዶ ጠላትን ማበሳጨት ማወክ፣ መጉዳት ማለት ነው። ሁሉም ዜጋ ዱሩ ነው ቤቱ ማለት ባይችልም ሁሉም ዜጋ በወያኔና ቅጥረኞቹ ላይ ግን

የኢኮኖሚና ማህበረሰባዊ ማዕቀብ ማድረግ ይችላል/ይገባዋል። ይህን አሌ ብለውና ተቃውመው ከወያኔ ጋር የሚርመሰሱትንም በዚያው ደረጃ ፈርጆ በነሱም ላይ ሕዝብ ማዕቀብ ማድረግ

ይኖርበታል። እንደ ሕዝብ ማኩረፍ ሲያንሰን ነው፤ የተቀማኝው እኮ ክብርና ሀገርን ነው።

ስለዚህም አለምንም ማወላወል በወያኔና ረዳቶቹ፣ በቅጥረኞቹና በጭፍን ሎሌዎቹ ላይ ሁለገብ

ማዕቀብን እናጥብቅብቻው።
